Tropical Storm Debris Collection Update

We understand that Tropical Storm Ida debris collection is taking longer than expected.

Although DPW is working diligently to collect as much debris as possible, there is a severe delay at the transfer station where the trucks unload. This delay is due to all the other surrounding towns and municipalities unloading as well. The line can exceed well over an hour wait. As we have seen, our Township is not the only community affected in our area.

The delay at the transfer station and finite amount of debris that each truck can hold is causing the collection to be much slower than anticipated. Despite these delays, the amount of debris that has been collected in Bloomfield has been more than 500 tons.

We continue to ask for your patience and cooperation. Please leave all debris at the curb. IT WILL BE COLLECTED. Our Public works department will be sending additional trucks this Friday and Saturday to continue to collect the storm damage debris.
